

Better Half

This Time Next Year

This is a story of the life and times of the friends of mine

Who stood by me, you stood by me

Well I'm not a poet or a better friend of any kind

But I must say for my poor penmanship this is my thanks

Oh you gotta believe me when I say

Oh you are the bone in back of me

I never want to be something

If that means I'm nothing to you

I will always be yours

Pick me up

I'll be there, there for you

This is a story of the endless drives and drunken dives

Where the best of me, was in my sleep

Oh you gotta believe me when I say

Oh you are the bone in back of me

I never want to be something

If that means I'm nothing to you

I will always be yours

Pick me up

I'll be there, there for you

I never want to be something

If that means I'm nothing to you

I will always be yours

Pick me up

I'll be there, there for you

Nothing last forever

I've got your back when your backs against the wall

Nothing last forever

I swear I'd fight and die for you

I never want to be something

If that means I'm nothing to you

I will always be yours

Pick me up

I'll be there, there for you

This is a story of the life and times of the friends of mine

Who stood by me, you stood by me

I'll be there, there for you

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>