

Where I Ended

Everyday Sunday

You did it again
I wish I took a photograph
Just so the memory will stick
You made me win
When I deserved to lose
I don't know where I would be without you
I was starting to come undone
Then you came to me where I was
Lost and out there somewhere stranded
You began right where I ended
I was starting to come unglued
But then you did what you always do
I was out there somewhere stranded
But you began right where I ended
There are just days
When life has just got you down
When the only thing that you feel is your doubt
And I have been there
I remember everything
And I'm not going back, I'm safe with you right now
You were always somewhere out there

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>