

All Cried Out

Kree Harrison

Oooh They say when the last tear comes
You can tell by the way it falls
It's like seeing everything for the first time again
It's not like the pain is gone,
It just hurts a little bit less
You know you're gonna cross that line,
Who knows what you're gonna find
It's only a matter of time in the end I'm all cried out...
I let it run like a river
But it's empty now
And the only consolation is
That I can lay here in this bed
And put these memories to rest somehow
Cause I'm all cried out
I never knew I had the strength
'Til I finally hit the ground
And I had to make the choice
To get up or stay down
For crying out loud I'm all cried out...
I let it run like a river
But it's empty now
And the only consolation is
That I can lay here in this bed
And put these memories to rest somehow
Cause I'm all cried out
And the only consolation is
That I can lay here in this bed
And put these memories to rest somehow
Cause I'm all cried out, oh

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>