

Black Hoax Lie

Sarah Jaffe

When you're on your way to the bottom
At least you know where you're going
Even when I'm sinking I feel sad
See, I never let down, and I never let go
I guess that means I'm invisible
And all that time I really missed my pride

I'm living a black hoax
Living a black hoax lie
Wherever you left me
That's where my heart still lies

Once at night where I reside
I laid there still where I want to cry
And I broke the bed and its mattress springs
I told them I'll break the bread
But I'll hog the wine
Gather 'round
Let's forget in time
Oh, I really miss my pride

I'm living a black hoax
Living a black hoax lie
Wherever you left me
That's where my heart still lies
Wherever you left me
That's where my heart still lies
Uh, huh

Thanks to Frontman

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>