

Revenge (feat. The Flaming Lips)

Danger Mouse & Sparklehorse

Pain

I guess it's a matter of sensation
But somehow you have a way of avoiding it all

In my mind

I have shot you and stabbed you through your heart
I just didn't understand

The ricochet is the second part 'Cause you can't hide what you intend

It glows in the dark

Once you've sought

The path of revenge

There's no way to stop and the more I try to hurt you

The more it hurts me

Strange

It seems like a character mutation

Though I have all the means of bringing you fuckers down

I can't make myself

To destroy upon command

Somehow forgiveness lets the evil make the laws

No you can't hide what you intend

It glows in the dark

Once we've become the thing we dread

There's no way to stop and the more I try to hurt you

The more it backfires

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>