

Oblivion

Mastodon

I flew beyond the sun before it was time
Burning all the gold that held me inside my shell
Waiting for you to pull me back in
I almost had the world in my sight
Lost love, bright eyes fading
Faster than stars falling
How can I tell you that I've failed?
Tell you I failed
Falling from grace
'Cause I've been away too long
Leaving you behind
With my lonesome song
Now I'm lost in oblivion
I tried to burrow a hole into the ground
Breaking all the fingers and the nails from my hand
The eyes of the child see no wrong
Ignorant bliss, impending doom
Lost love, bright eyes fading
Faster than stars falling
How can I tell you that I've failed?
Tell you I failed
Falling from grace
'Cause I've been away too long
Leaving you behind
With my lonesome song
Now I'm lost
Falling from grace
'Cause I've been away too long
Leaving you behind
With my lonesome song
Now I'm lost
Falling from grace
'Cause I've been away too long
Leaving you behind
With my lonesome song
Now I'm lost in oblivion
