

Unfortunate Soul

Kailee Morgue

[Verse 1]

Wooden cage where I lay
Would you let me out to play
Crystal heart in the graveyard
I think it's time for a new start

Blinded eyes to my surprise
You long to see what you can't find
Flightless bird I know you're hurt
It's not the life that you deserve

[Refrain]

And I want you to know that

[Chorus]

I'm an unfortunate soul
Unlucky yeah I've been told
I've still got room to grow

I'm an unfortunate soul
It's just the way that I roll
Cruising the highs and the lows

[Verse 2]

Shattered bones and dead end roads
Faded maps, where do I go?
Stepped on cracks and broken backs
My mother knows I love her so

Ripped up shoes they will make do
There's places I'd like to go to Daydreaming what could have been
But I know I'm not made to win

[Refrain]

And I want you to know that

[Chorus]

I'm an unfortunate soul
Unlucky yeah I've been told
I've still got room to grow

I'm an unfortunate soul
It's just the way that I roll
Cruising the highs and the lows

[Bridge]

Who says that I can't be tough
Be a diamond in the rough
That I just can't be loved
I think enough's enough

Who says that I can't be tough
Be a diamond in the rough
That I just can't be loved
I think enough's enough

[Refrain]

And I want you to know that

[Chorus]

I'm an unfortunate soul
Unlucky yeah I've been told
I've still got room to grow
I'm an unfortunate soul
It's just the way that I roll
Cruising the highs and the lows

I'm an unfortunate soul
Unlucky yeah I've been told
I've still got room to grow

I'm an unfortunate soul
It's just the way that I roll
Cruising the highs and the lows

[Outro]

And I want you to know that

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>